

Endangered Species Scavenger Hunt (3rd-5th Grade)

| Animal Hint | Animal Fact | Animal/Mark When Found |
|---|--|------------------------|
|  | Capture from the wild for the illegal pet trade brought down the population of this small monkey with fluffy hair to just a few thousand. | |
|  | In the wild, most of these large lizards live in a national park which is protected from habitat loss and human activities. | |
|  | Named for the Indonesian island where they are from, very few remain as thousands have been trapped for the pet trade. | |
|  | This ape calls out siren-like morning songs, but due to over-hunting only small groups exist. They are even labeled as extinct in China. | |
|  | Known for their intelligence and tool use, this great ape's forest habitat is threatened by mining and land development. | |

Answer Key: Endangered Species Scavenger Hunt (3rd-5th Grade)

| Animal Hint | Animal Fact | Animal/Mark When Found |
|---|---|-----------------------------|
|  | Capture from the wild for the illegal pet trade brought down the population of this small monkey with fluffy hair to just a few thousand. | Golden Lion Tamarin |
|  | In the wild, most of these large lizards live in a national park which is protected from habitat loss and human activities. | Komodo Dragon |
|  | Named for the Indonesian island where they are from, very few remain as thousands have been trapped for the pet trade. | Bali Mynah |
|  | This ape calls out siren-like morning songs, but due to over-hunting only small groups exist. They are even labeled as extinct in China. | White-Cheeked Gibbon |
|  | Known for their intelligence and tool use, this great ape's forest habitat is threatened by mining and land development. | Chimpanzee |